

Manufacturing: "PAM" – Perfumes and more GmbH, Austria

"From design to packing, warehousing and logistics ... we at PAM, as well as our suppliers expect quality and that's what we promise our customers!"

"Quality without compromise"

Design, quality, lifestyle – all these characterise the successful young company PAM, also known as Perfumes and more. As a producer and developer of brands of perfume, fragrances, dyes, personal care, glamour and style PAM supplies to retail chains, perfumeries, chemists, designers and fashion labels in 15 countries around the world.

It was clear to CEO Verena Resch that this had to be backed up by perfect logistics. Another challenge to be met was to cut the enormous energy costs generated in the warehousing and shipping of high-quality goods.

ASSA ABLOY Entrance Systems were asked to do both. So a special Crawford docking construction that ideally meets the vision of energy cost savings was developed as a solution for PAM Perfumes and more.

Remarkable results:
The specialists from ASSA ABLOY Entrance Systems developed a special dock leveller – an insulated loading solution including electrically operated industrial door. This reduced energy losses considerably and even saves energy compared to a normal dock leveller with an annual cost saving of around € 400.00 per docking station.

A perfect quality solution, which not only works but also saves enormous energy costs.
