Features of Retractable Roof

1. All material is non-corrosive in nature like Aluminium Alloy Profiles, Stainless Steel Fasteners, Rubber sealing, and Polycarbonate Sheet.
2. The AL grade is 6060 and 6063, used mainly in outdoor and architectural section.
3. The manual lock and handles are of polyamide.
4. Completely automatic system with European make motors.
5. It can be operated manually, by remote, push button or by mobile app.
6. Lightweight solution for terraces, roofing systems, pools, balconies, patios, smoking zones, and a lot more applications.
7. Polycarbonate sheet along the width is jointless. A single span sheet is used for maximum width of 20m.
8. No need for any license from municipal authorities for terrace roofing, since it's completely retractable.

Advantages of Retractable Roof

1. The main purpose of the skylight is to take advantage of natural light. Natural light in homes increases the comfort of living and positively influences health.
2. Fast and easy installation takes a couple of days to a week to install depending on the size.
3. Light Weight, Easy and soundless movement.
4. The motor mechanism has minimum moving parts so there is no wear and tear.
5. The system is Water Proof & it can be Air Conditioned too.
6. There is no maintenance required as it is easy to clean while serving the purpose.
7. Aesthetically stylish covering & once a particular area is decided to be covered, A retractable roof/enclosure has many advantages compared to fixed structures made of glass or any other material.

Benefits of Retractable Roof

1. Better Ventilation, when required it can be opened to let in the natural air.
2. It matches to the indoor decorating scheme allowing the decor to flow seamlessly from one space to the next.
3. Flexibility and Versatile Outdoor system and different type of polycarbonate can be opted.
4. The retractable roof systems are 100% watertight. Water testing is done after installation for check
5. Retractable roof will definitely add to the value of the estate.
6. Retractable roof systems are long-lasting, practical, and user-friendly.