YDL BP

3.3.1 promptly and prior to any such disclosure notifies the Disclosing Party of such requirement and, to the extent permitted by law and is reasonably practicable, cooperates with the Disclosing Party regarding (i) the timing and content of such disclosure and (ii) any action which the Disclosing Party may reasonably elect, at its cost, to take to challenge the validity of such requirement; and

3.3.2 discloses to the appropriate body only that portion of the Confidential Information which the Receiving Party is legally required to disclose and uses reasonable efforts to obtain assurances that such Confidential Information will be kept confidential.

4. The confidentiality obligations contained in Clause 2 shall:

4.1 apply with effect from the first disclosure of Confidential Information by a Disclosing Party to a Receiving Party (whether such disclosure occurs before or after the Effective Date of this Agreement); and

4.2 unless the Parties enter into a subsequent agreement relating to the Purpose containing provisions governing the confidentiality of the Confidential Information, remain in full force and effect indefinitely.

5. The Parties agree that Confidential Information shall remain the property of the Disclosing Party, who shall retain all rights (including intellectual property rights), title and interest therein. Upon termination of negotiations between the Parties in relation to the Purpose (unless agreed otherwise), and at any time upon request by the Disclosing Party, the Receiving Party shall, and shall procure that all persons to whom it has disclosed Confidential Information shall, promptly:

5.1 return to the Disclosing Party at its address in Clause 9 or, at the option of the Disclosing Party, destroy and delete from its electronic records (so far as reasonably possible), all Confidential Information that is in tangible form, including any copies or extracts thereof; and

5.2 destroy (so far as reasonably possible) all analyses, compilations, studies or other documents containing, reflecting or derived from Confidential Information which have been prepared by the Receiving Party or any person to whom it has disclosed the Confidential Information, except to the extent that such Confidential Information is incorporated into corporate documents or records which the Receiving Party or such person is required to retain by law or internal procedures, in which case appropriate measures shall be taken to preserve its continuing confidentiality.

6. The disclosure of Confidential Information by the Disclosing Party shall not form any offer by the Disclosing Party to proceed with any transaction or enter into any further agreement. Except (i) in the case of fraud of one of the Parties, or (ii) to the extent that the Parties may specifically agree otherwise in writing in any contract(s) ultimately concluded encompassing the Purpose:

the existence, content, or results of any arbitration hereunder without the prior written consent of both Parties.

8. Each Party acknowledges that damages alone may not be an adequate remedy for any breach of this Agreement and agrees that notwithstanding Clause 7 above, the other Party may be entitled to the remedies of injunction, specific performance or other equitable relief. Such remedy shall be in addition to and not in lieu or limitation of other remedies available at law or in equity.

9. Save as provided for herein below with respect to validity of email notices, any notices to be given hereunder by either Party to the other Party shall be (i) in English, and (ii) sent by courier, email or personally delivered to the other Party at its address stated below:

Entity name:	FLOATSYS LLC	DEEPBLUE Pte Ltd

of that or any right or remedy, nor shall it preclude or restrict any further exercise of that or any other right or remedy. No single or partial exercise of any right or remedy provided under this Agreement or by law shall preclude or restrict the further exercise of that or any other right or remedy.

12. This Agreement constitutes the entire current agreement of the Parties with respect to the subject matter herein and supersedes any and all prior communications, understandings, arrangements or agreements between the Parties, whether written, oral, express or implied relating thereto. No amendment, waiver or modification to this Agreement shall be valid unless in writing and signed by a duly authorised representative of each of the Parties. This Agreement is personal to the Parties and neither Party shall assign, transfer, subcontract or deal in any other manner with any of its rights and obligations under this Agreement.

13. To the extent that any Confidential Information is covered or protected by legal or any other applicable privilege or doctrine, disclosure of such Confidential Information to the Receiving Party or to any other person to whom it provides Confidential Information in accordance with this Agreement does not constitute a waiver of any such privilege.

14. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable, that provision shall, to the extent of such illegality, invalidity or unenforceability, have no effect and be deemed not to be included in this Agreement; but this Clause shall not affect the legality, validity or enforceability of any other provision of this Agreement.

15. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original and all of which together will constitute one and the same instrument.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Parties have caused this Agreement to be executed by their respective duly authorized representatives.
